Do not tax the Internet. If governments need more money they can cut services or better yet remove at least one layer of bureaucrats starting with the highest paid. Another way to reduce costs of government is to cut the automatic pay raises for congressmen. If you need more ideas on how to save money so you don't have to tax the internet, just ask.